THE PROPOSED REGATTA - A meeting of those interested in the proposed regatta, was held at the Fulton House, Potomac Ferry wharf, in Washington, last night. George A. Sheckells called the meeting to order, and having stated its objects, as being the getting up of a race from Seventh-street wharf to Glymont -a distance of 214 miles-made an offer of $50 as the prize to competitors under the head of first class vessels and $30 for the secondclass; the first not to be restricted as to length of keel; the second 27 feet and under.

Mr. Thomas E. Smithson suggested that no boat under twenty-eight feet be admitted to the first-class, which motion, after an expression of sentiment on the subject was had, was offered, put and carried.

The list being announced as open to yacht owners. Addision Ferguson entered the Witch of the Wave under the second-class.

Thomas E. Smithson entered the Mary Jane in the same class. George A. Sheckells entered the Hope in the same class. Thos. Jones entered the Shipper (18 feet keel) in the same class. The meeting adjourned until Thursday the 15th when the time for the regetta will be designated and other boats be entered.

A DELIGHTFUL PIC-NIC. - Among the many private excursion parties on the Fourth of July, none was more enjoyed than the one given by about twenty ladies and gentlemen of East Washington and Uniontown. They sailed down to the White House Farm, in the new, and handsome cat rigged boat, the Hope, commanded by the well-known Captain Nat Berry. On their arrival they were hospitably entertained by the genial and kind-hearted Mr. Louis Otterback and his amiable wife. All who had the good fortune to taste of the turtle soup, made by Captain James Padgett, were satisfied they had never pariaken of any as good before. Dancing was commenced and kept up till a late hour that evening. Among the young ladies public are respectfully informed that thankful hour that evening. Among the young ladies were: Miss Fanny Padget, Miss Pistoria, Miss Beers, Miss Mary Smith, the Misses Murray and Miss Lucy Coleman of Alexandria. -Washington Chronicle.

ESCAPE OF A PRISONER. - A colored man named Ben Blanheim while on his way from Alexandria county, to the station house in this city yesterday afternoon, in charge of a colored constable, named Richard Parker, of the county, escaped, and is still at large. The constable was armed with a billy and a pistol, but when near the canal locks Blanheim's sister took the billy away from him and threw it into the canal, and the prisoner, at the same time stealing the pistol from his belt, cast it likewise into the water, and then ran off. The constable tied his head up in a handkerchief and coming to police headquarters got two policemen to assist him in making a search for his escaped prisoner, but did not succeed in finding

EXTENSIVE PIG STEALING. - A colored man J. C. Burnett, for maliciously wounding John | named Thomas Field, committed to jail here a few days ago, charged with stealing pigs near Burke's Station, was examined before Justice Kerby, of Fairfax county, this afternoon, and ordered to have nine and thirty lashes on his bare fences. The following are the names of the back, well laid on. At the examination it was proved that he had been extensively engaged in pig stealing in the country around this city, bringing his plunder here and disposing of it to innocent colored people. Quite a number of pigs were recovered. Among the sufferers by his thefts were Isaac Hall and Barney Deevers, both members of the old 17th Virginia.

BELLE HAVEN INSTITUTE. - The Charlottesville Jeffersonian in speaking of the Belle Haven Institute of this city says:-Captain Penick has a fine reputation as an instructor of young ladies, and is assisted by an able corps of teachers. Amongst these we are pleased to notice the name of Miss Lily R. Budwell, of Charlottesville, as instructress in French, German and assistant in Latin. Miss Budwell is most highly accomplished in her specialties, and County Supervisors. - A called meeting we are glad to see this fact recognized by those whose interest it is to secure the best talent.

LONDON, July 8. - The letter received on the 6th inst. by Col. Gildersleeve, in relation to the shooting by the American riflemen, at Wimbledon, was from Henry Parsons, adjutant of are still at large. the English eight. Mr. Parsons says: "The on motion of defendant an order was entered council is not willing to admit another team to shoot with our three-eights in the Eichs' shield match, but they propose a match to take place the Americans and an eight, selected by the respective captains, from the three British teams. At the sametime the council does not despuir of a match between the four-eights, which, perhaps, may be managed for the Monday following the shooting at Wimbledon. In the meantime it hopes that the match, proposed for the 17th inst., may be agreeable to the Americans.

LONDON, July S .-- A special dispatch to the Daily News says: The Crown Prince of Germany, has informed the Italian Crown Prince, that the visit of the Emperor William to King Victor Emmanuel will not be postponed later than September next.

London, July S. -To day's Times contains a letter from Buda Pesth confirming the previous report of the destructive character of the recent storm in that vicinity, but reduces the number of fatalities as first stated. It says the bodies of twenty-eight persons have been found, and over one hundred people are known to be missing. It is probable that many other persons of poorer classes, who are missing, have not been reported, so the loss of life is not accurately ascertained. The destruction of property on the mountain slopes was likewise fearful. None of the villas on upper ground entirely escaped. Hundreds of people are destitute and homeless. Subscriptions have been opened for their relief, and they are being liberally responded to.

Paris, July 8 -A meeting of French commissioners to promote the representation of France at the Philadelphia Exhibition, was held yesterday to examine the question of transportation. The Minister of Commerce presided. It was ascertained that the rate of freight from Paris to Philadelphia was 2 less than from Paris to Vienna and half less than from Paris to London. Communications and information were submitted relative to the protection of patent rights and the cost of living in Philadelphia.

The Beecher Trial.

NEW YORK, June 8 .- The Chairman of the Plymouth Church meeting last night in a speech previous to the adoption of the resolution increasing Beecher's salary for the coming year to $100,000, said :- The necessary expenses of the trial have been very large. It has extended over six months; counsel have been employed by day and by night; witnesses have been brought from all paats of the country, and the expenses are much greater than our pastor is able to pay either now or for some time to come. It is our duty to help him and pay these expenses for him, for not only has he been assailed, but this whole Church has been attacked. He has not intimated, nor do I think he expects we shall pay this money, but it is our duty to do it, and we mean to do it. [Applause. While it is neither legal nor proper for us to supply him with aid directly for this purpose, we can reach it by voting him a salary which will include it. Let us come to this sub-ject in the name of old Plymouth, and show by our acts, as well as our words, our respect. our love, our admiration and our appreciation of our pastor, and show too, that we will stand by him to the end. [Applause.] The Tribune says: "Immediately on the conclusion of the examination of Price and Loader, yesterday, Beecher accompanied the District Attorney to the Court House in Brooklyn, and was ushered into the grand jury room where he gave his testimony to the untruth of the affidavits made by Price and Loader. The papers showing the evidence taken before Justice Riley were also submitted, and an indictment was ordered against both the alleged perjurers. Price, although indicted in Kings county, will probably escape the penalty of his offence, as he made his confession and gave his evidence against Loader to the District Attorney of New York, on condition that he was accepted as State's evidence. A nolle prosequi will possibly be entered in consequence of this agreement. It is not known positively whether evidence was given against others who were alleged to have been concerned in this conspiracy to detame Mr. Beecher and Mrs. Tilton.

Murderer Sentenced.

NEW YORK, July S.-Joseph Doyle, indicted for the murder of Philip Sheridan by breaking his skull with a stone, April 25, pleaded guilty yesterday in the Hudson county, N. J.
